

CASE STUDY HINCHLEY WOOD – LINE MARKING

The managing agents of this property approached us to provide a road safety measure that would reduce parking in the entrance to the estate that had a local nursery, residential properties and commercial units. We recommended the introduction of yellow line marking at the front of the property which has subsequently had the desired effect.

The property is vast and mainly consists of high value residential properties. We subsequently met with the managing agent and resident representatives to ensure what was installed did not detract from the property values however have the desired effects.

As a result we agreed the implementation of double yellow lines to a 100 metre length of roadway to the entrance of the property.

All products were thermoplastic applied products, melted onto the roadway with a crystal coat application to raise the visibility in headlights.

The result is a large reduction in parking in this area and safe access for property owners.
